This book shows fractured entries and without mapping the information to the form before producing exercises to complete a form. The other issue is that exercises to complete a form (with 50+ blocks) only provide data for about 20 blocks of data, so one must go on a hunt throughout the chapter or multiple chapters to be able to fill out a complete form and complete the exercises involving these forms. The CD that comes with is moot -- it does not provide anything that would facilitate the book learning experience. I was frustrated that most of the time I spent flipping through pages going back and forth to narrow down the information I was looking for only to have to go online and get the research that way. For the life of me, I do not understand why it eluded this author to avoid presenting a fully prepared CMS1500 and UB04 with from a registration form(s) data on contrasting pages so a student could precisely see where the data comes FROM to input TO the form and WHERE within those forms that information would go. By using different patient scenarios and only sections of each form for each scenario,, one is constantly struggling to fill a form in its entirety with any kind of assuredness of the process. The book has a lot of basic information that takes up the pages -- such as 'what is health insurance' and the different types of insurance (group, private, etc.) but the meat and potatoes of billing is much more than what this book offers and what it offers it doesn't present well at all.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. You probablyneed to get the CPT book and the ICD_9-CM book with it, to be able to do the homework at the end of the chapters.
