District II, New York State Task Force American Academy of Pediatrics : Fostering Health: Health Care for Children and Adolescents in Foster Care before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Fostering Health: Health Care for Children and Adolescents in Foster Care:

With a higher prevalence of health, developmental, and behavioral problems, children and adolescents in foster care require a specialized approach to medical care. Developed by an AAP multidisciplinary panel of experts, this second edition features new and updated material, including practice parameters for primary care, developmental and mental health care, and child abuse and neglect, as well as health care management, AAP policy statements, and more.
