Hank Bruce, Tomi Jill Folk : Gardening Projects for Horticultural Therapy Programs before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Gardening Projects for Horticultural Therapy Programs:

this is an idea resource for horticultural therapists and activity professionals in senior care facilities, hospitals and rehab centers. There are themed gardening activities for a wide range of functioning levels and hundreds of activities that relate to the plants being grown. Avenues for socialization, opportunities to relive memories and make new discoveries abound as residents, patients, clients and staff share the joy and wonder of gardening.
